

I have really enjoyed NOT receiving all of the unsolicited and unnecessary phone calls that start before I come home from work and go on to sometimes after 9:00pm. I am partially handicapped with MS and it is a hassle to keep getting up to see who is calling. Even if I am near the phone, it is a nuisance to have to check the called ID and then to let it ring or pick up and hang up. It just seems like I get enough "junk mail" from every soliciter and company selling something and from every charitable organization. I think that the "Do Not Call List" option should be kept available for everyone to use. Thank you, Shereda E. Haines
